Famous quilting group comes to Macomb County Library

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. – The Hartford Wednesday Quilting Sisters of Detroit are presenting some of their renowned work at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 14, at the Macomb County Library. The quilting group exchanges ideas and works together to create quilts for charities.

Quilting group members Shirley Bell, Justine Burnell and Elaine Yancy Hollis will display their quilts and share stories about their creations. The women, who joined the group in the 1980s, also will share several of their quilting techniques.

“Their presentations at other libraries have gotten wonderful reviews and we are fortunate to have them visit the Macomb County Library,” said Cathleen Russ, the library’s assistant director. “Their work is just incredible, simply beautiful.”

The program is free, but reservations are required and can be made by calling the library at 586-286-6660.

About Macomb County

Macomb County is an enriching community in Southeastern Michigan that has one of the state's fastest rates of growth. Its 834,000 residents make it Michigan's third-largest county, with direct access to Lake St. Clair and Anchor Bay, and a host of cultural and entertainment options. Its highly skilled workforce and investment in new and expanding businesses make it open to enterprise. Active civic leadership translates into balanced budgets and Michigan's second-lowest tax rate. An increasingly diverse population and high quality of life make Macomb County accessible to all.
